The ICPC has provided a mechanism for establishment and coordination of cover stories for air vehicle operations, public responses to be used in the event of air vehicle and satellite contingencies, and policies regarding defensive satellite coorbital maneuvers. Action has been taken to transfer responsibility for all air vehicle contingency planning to the JCS.

In the event of a contingency situation, the ICPC would provide advice and assistance to the DNRO and assure a single spokesman for any public responses to the contingency.

Last formal meeting on 2 April 1970. The ICPC has "in absentia"
operated since then of course, even as of last week.
