

NRO Opens New Website for Children

17 December 2002

The NRO has a new website called NROjr.gov. This new website is designed to engage young children in the wonders of science, math and space in a fun and interactive manner. NROjr.gov contains four categories of activities: Art, Music, Stories and Games. For more information, contact the NRO Office of Corporate Communications at (703) 808-1015.
