2016 PRESIDENTIAL RANK AWARD

I am pleased to announce that Mr. Frank Calvelli has been awarded a 2016 Presidential Rank Award (PRA) "Distinguished"--the highest award that can be presented to a federal government executive. A "Distinguished" PRA recognizes the best of the best for sustained, exceptional performance.

Frank deserved this award. As Principal Deputy Director, National Reconnaissance Office, he has made a huge difference, focusing on both our mission and our people. But his stellar leadership, vision, unwavering pursuit of excellence, and sustained impact on national defense and intelligence capabilities were evident long before he took on his current role--he's demonstrated those same qualities, and that same effectiveness, in every government assignment he's taken on throughout his career.

I am very proud to serve with Frank, and very pleased to see his sustained, exceptional performance recognized by the leadership of the Intelligence Community, and the President of the U.S.

Please join me in congratulating Frank on this very prestigious award.

Betty J. Sapp
Director
