The folder at:

(b)(3)

[redacted]
contains released documents that should be text-searchable. Since these are treated, released documents, there really isn't any need-to-know issue to preclude maintaining these at this location; however, if you wish to move them to a more private location, you may.... these are just copies of files that IRRG has stored in an internal location.

Hope this will help a little!

(U) Sorry for the delay in getting back to you... certainly didn't mean to ignore you. It's just been quite a week! I haven't taken a close look at the next set(s) of documents being reviewed for release. The plan is to dive into these next week, so I might be able to give you a better idea of the content once I get things in order. Actually, unless I find something truly unusual, there will probably be no problem with me providing you with the untreated documents. Anyway, again, apologies.... and I'll be in touch next week.
